Blames The Democratic Candidate For The Assassination Of The Late President McKinley---Startling Denouncement.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Nov. 2.—William J. Bryan has written a letter to Bird S. Coler, the Borough president of Brooklyn, in which he endorses the candidacy of William R. Hearst for the Governorship of New York state. An extract from his letter is as follows: "I am very anxious to see Hearst elected and would have come to New York to help him if I had thought an outside speaker would have been of any assistance. From present indications, however, he is going to win as he ought to. If I have any friends there I want them to vote for him."

"Secretary Root stated Roosevelt's opinion of the democratic nominee in plain words and it has been spread broadcast throughout the country, east and west. It is one of the bitterest arraignments of a candidate ever given by a political speaker in any campaign."

TWO OLD SETTLERS OF COUNTY CALLED

Mrs. Julia Gifford and William Rummage Dead—Both Came in 1845.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Orfordville, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Julia (Belle) Gifford, whose death occurred Tuesday, October 30, was born May 12, 1832, and with her parents came from Clifford county, Pennsylvania, to Wisconsin June 3, 1845. They settled in the town of Magnolia, but moved to Orfordville in September of the same year and spent the greater part of her life in this vicinity. She was united in marriage Oct. 25, 1849, to Joseph Gifford. To them were born four children, Mrs. Nellie Duwett of Milton; Calla, who died in early childhood; Dr. H. B. Gifford of Juda, and Burtis of Belvidere, Ill. She was a devoted and patient mother strongly attached to her family and friends. The funeral services were held on Thursday at one o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howe of Orfordville, conducted by Rev. Dorland of Juda. Interment was in the Maple Grove cemetery.

William Rummage was born in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, April 12, 1832, and died at his home about nine o'clock Oct. 25, 1906. At the age of 13 he came with his parents to Wisconsin and taking up land from the government settled in this community. On Christmas day, 1855, he was married to Miss Dalinda Scidmore, who died 14 years ago and was buried in Plymouth cemetery. Of this union eight children were born, three of whom have died and five of whom are left to mourn. These dead are: Mrs. Della Grenawalt, Elmer, who died in infancy; and Charles, who died at the age of 15. Those living are: Mrs. Flora Perkins of Beloit; Mrs. Della Perkins of Newark, Louis Rummage of Janesville; Mrs. Mary Rinehlmer and William Rummage of Plymouth. Besides these there are four sisters: Mrs. Wm. Grenawalt of Orfordville; Mrs. Sarahann Scidmore of North Dakota; Mrs. C. Nathall of Iowa and Mrs. Eliza Wilhelm of Janesville, and a number of grandchildren. Mr. Rummage had lived in Plymouth community for more than 60 years. He was a man of fine disposition, temperate habits, sober mind and good character. He was a hard-working man and because of his industry and frugality he provided a good living for himself and family. He had won and held the respect and friendship of an entire community, and a host of friends are saddened by his departure. The funeral service was held Sunday in the Plymouth church by his pastor, Rev. C. Wesley Boag.

Mrs. John Smiley visited friends in Janesville over Sunday. Arch Patrinqua, who has been spending several months in Minnesota, returned to the village on Wednesday. There will be no preaching services in the M. E. church on Sunday. There will be Epworth League in the evening.

Those who wish to contribute to the Westyn hospital, Chicago, or Deaconess home, Milwaukee, will have a chance to do so on Saturday of this week. Bring clothing, eggs, vegetables or canned fruit and leave at the M. E. church. The ladies' cemetery association will also meet at the M. E. church on Saturday afternoon.

For "Drunkness." In municipal court this morning Otis Walkley was sentenced to the county jail for five days and a man named Tiffany for 10 days for drunkenness.

According to the chief of police Leopold acknowledged his identity. He said he was the man the Chicago authorities were looking for. He strenuously denied any connection with the murder of Mrs. Leslie, but said after the crime was committed Nicholas, who is under arrest in Chicago for the murder, came to him and asked him to dispose of some of the diamonds. Leopold says he went to a pawnbroker, but the latter threatened to call the police and says he "got out" and have been getting out ever since."

AMERICAN FEDERATION MAY REBUKE GOMPERS

Labor's President Failed To Meet With Hearty Support In His Political Propaganda, And Schemes May Be Abandoned.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—Organized labor throughout the United States is looking forward with keenest interest to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which is to assemble in Minneapolis week after next. There is no concealing the fact that the rank and file of the organization looks upon the approaching gathering as the most important in the history of the federation, which extends over a quarter of a century. There is a feeling, which has scarcely yet been given expression, that the organization is approaching a crisis in its career.

To put the situation in plain words, it is becoming recognized among the more intelligent of the labor element that the political program of President Gompers and his advisers has proved a "frost." Some of the prominent leaders do not hesitate even now to say so. If the elections next Tuesday are disastrous to the plans of the American Federation of Labor or, in other words, if the congressional candidates that the federation has marked for defeat are re-elected by normal majorities, it is safe to say that Mr. Gompers' reputation as a leader will suffer severely. That the reaction against his leadership will be sufficiently strong to result in his overthrow at the Minneapolis convention is scarcely probable under any circumstances. He has successfully guided the organization for years and his personal popularity among the rank and file is believed to be sufficient to keep him in power. But it is also probable that he will be forced to entirely abandon his political schemes or put them upon a wholly new basis.

While the radical element of organized labor enthusiastically embraced the scheme of going in to politics, it is at the same time true that the more conservative of the organization, such as the railway brotherhoods, the painters, and others, have been only lukewarm in support of the political propaganda. The sentiment of those opposed to President Gompers is well set forth in an editorial appearing in the official organ this week of one of the strongest and most influential labor organizations in America. The writer says, in part: "We regret, but are not surprised at the apathy of the unorganized and the absence of enthusiasm on the part of the original workers in the political campaign. The executive council of the American Federation of Labor must feel discouraged at the coolness with which their plans were received and disappointed at the lack of interest shown by those active in the movement. It is not difficult to account for this unfortunate situation. Those responsible cannot plead ignorance of the methods of trade unions or of the sentiments of their memberships. No one knows better than President Gompers that trade unionists, the world over, are staunch believers in self-government—that they have confidence in their ability to decide for themselves what policy is best for them to adopt, how and by whom it shall be carried out, and how the funds necessary for its carrying out shall be provided. They refuse to be committed to any program in the adoption of which they are not consulted, and resent the assumption of irresponsible authority and even the semblance of dictation by their leaders. Yet, knowing the aggressive democracy of trade unionism—President Gompers and the executive council without consulting the three million members of the American Federation of Labor decided to commit the trade unionists of the United States to a platform in which they had no hand in framing, to a policy which many think ill-advised and impractical, to a campaign for which no adequate plans have been made or funds provided."

SPOONER SHOWS THAT HE IS A POLITICAL LEADER

His Speeches Throughout The Present State Campaign Have Done Much For Unity.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 2.—One of the interesting developments of the republican campaign in Wisconsin, particularly to those who keep their eyes on the progress of the Spooner-La Follette factional affair, is the way in which the senior senator has outgrown the recent boss of the republican party in this state by establishing his regularity absolutely, and not only that, but establishing close relationship with Governor Davidson and the state central committee, while Senator La Follette remains far out of harmony with the party organization and those in control of the state administration. It was the desire of Governor Davidson to keep perfectly free from the unfriendly relations of the two senators, perhaps favoring La Follette a good deal on account of the close political associations of the past, but the fact that Senator Spooner was for Governor Davidson in the primary campaign, while La Follette was opposing the nomination of Davidson, put Spooner right with the administration, and he will appear on the platform with Governor Davidson in the closing speech of the campaign here next Monday night. Senator La Follette has acknowledged his approval of Davidson, but has never made entire peace and has kept free from the state central committee, while Senator Spooner has been campaigning under the auspices of the committee. Senator La Follette has been by inuendo opposing the election of at least one of the republican nominees for state office—Chairman W. D. Connor for Lieutenant governor—and has not hesitated to openly denounce some local candidates on the republican ticket, such as State Senator Z. P. Beach, who is a candidate for reelection. There being little doubt as to the outcome of the election itself, this Spooner-La Follette affair is per-

Gazette's 500 Pennies.

THE SKIDOO PROBLEM

A coin collector had an accumulation of pennies. He told his son he would make him a present of the entire lot if he would put them in boxes, the same number in each box.
There was an odd number of pennies so that if he put an equal number in each of two boxes there would be one penny left over; in a like manner he figured on 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 boxes, but in every case he found the same result. The son gave it up and told his father he thought it impossible to perform the feat. His father replied, "SKIDOO—23 for you!" The son then put the entire lot of pennies in 23 boxes, the same number in each box. How many pennies were there?
To make the problem plain: The entire number of pennies was a number which if divided by any number from 2 to 22 inclusive there will be a remainder of one (only one) and if divided by 23 there will be no remainder.

The Gazette's great SKIDOO PROBLEM offers to best of opportunities for everybody, both old and young, to show their skill at figuring and to win a prize. Nearly everybody will catch the skidoo fever if they haven't it already and the many systems which will be tried on this problem will surprise the mathematicians generally.

The Skidoo Problem has been secured by The Gazette for exclusive use in Janesville and is the cleverest problem conceived in years. Skidoo and 23 are in the air and are at last put to practical use. This is no trick problem. It is a plain proposition in arithmetic. Just simple arithmetic is needed to solve it—just a contest of skill, no algebra or higher mathematics.

WOULD EXPLAIN HEREDITY LAWS

SPECIAL COMMITTEE AT WORK TO DISCOVER REMEDY.

MORE AS TO FREE SEEDS

Other Bits of Gossip Picked up at the National Capital by Correspondent.

(By William Wolf Smith.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 2. (Special Correspondence)—A committee consisting of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell of Washington; Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University; Major Charles Woodruff of the medical department of the United States Army; Dr. Charles B. Henderson of the University of Chicago; C. W. Ward of New York and Rev. J. W. Gilbert of Washington, which was appointed recently by the American Breeders' association for the purpose of investigating heredity and its application to men and women with a view to improving the human race, will make a report of its researches at a meeting to be held in Columbus, Ohio, on January 15, next. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Hays designated the committee and instructed it to investigate and report on heredity in the human race, to devise methods of recording the values of the blood of individuals, families, peoples and races, to emphasize the value of superior blood and the menace to society of inferior blood, and to suggest methods of improving the heredity of the family, the people, the race. The committee will take up such questions as whether two persons blind or lacking other of their senses should marry; if it is shown their marriage is likely to cause the transmission of their deficiency to their progeny, some method will be suggested whereby such unions may be prevented. The committee consists of men who are all students of human heredity so their observations will be interesting and important.

I was very much interested in the action of the Kentucky State Grange and the Farmers' Institute of Kentucky last week on the free seed question. When the appropriation for this purpose several members of the Kentucky delegation said that the only reason they voted for free seeds was because the farmers of Kentucky demanded them. Several days ago the Grange and Institute held a joint convention at Lexington, attended by about one thousand delegates from all parts of the state. As an evidence of the fact that they do not want congress to give them penny packages of pumpkin and squash seed they adopted resolutions calling on everybody from the President of the United States down to the humblest member of congress to do away with this grant of money to the department of agriculture that it may be used for the advancement of agriculture. Whether the members of congress from Kentucky will pay attention to the wishes of their constituents or not remains to be seen, but in the face of this decisive action by their constituents they will scarcely rise in their seats and say that Kentucky farmers want free cucumbers and watermelon seed at the expense of the agricultural movement. The action of the Kentucky farmers is expected to be followed by similar action by farmers' organizations throughout the south.

The state of Kansas is making a determined effort to collect statistics on all tubercular cases in its borders.

and has inaugurated a vigorous campaign against tuberculosis. Dr. S. J. Crumrine, secretary of the State Board of Health, has prepared some pamphlets on this subject, calling attention to the nature of the disease, the danger of sputum, and giving advice as to how to prevent infection. As the chief conditions necessary for successful treatment he gives: early recognition of the disease; fresh air in the greatest abundance day and night; plenty of the most nutritious food; absolute rest in bed until fever has ceased; carefully regulated exercise. Much attention is given to disinfecting and the pamphlet contains a number of formulas for disinfectants. These pamphlets are to be distributed through the schools of Kansas and through the medical fraternity. Circulars are also to be sent to every physician in Kansas to report to the board of health the number of tuberculosis cases in his territory. The whole part of a campaign which the state of Kansas is making to stamp out the white plague. The result will be watched with interest by the government medical authorities, particularly the U. S. Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, which has already displayed great interest in the subject.

Your correspondent also learns from Dr. Crumrine that the Kansas state authorities are making a novel effort to educate the children of the state in regard to pure food. A pamphlet has been printed dealing with kitchen tests to defeat the adulteration of food and these will be distributed through all the Kansas schools. In simple language, it tells the children that the distinction between pure food and adulterated food is as clear as the distinction between pure water and impure water. The pamphlet tells how to detect the presence of copper, borax, sodium of borate, salicylic acid, etc., in canned goods, how to detect adulterated coffee, dairy products, stale eggs, etc. These simple tests will doubtless be used to a large extent in the schools and probably find favor with the housewives of Kansas. I take pleasure in calling attention to them, as they are worthy of the consideration of the health authorities of other states.

A correspondent in Richmond, Virginia, calls my attention to the injury done all business interests by alleged unwarranted delays in the transportation of freight, and asks a few paragraphs on this subject. The movement is to secure legislation giving the Interstate Commerce commission the right to put a time limit on the movement of freight and to penalize the railroads not keeping under the limit in favor of the shipper whose freight is unduly delayed. Already the endorsement of the National Shoe Wholesalers' association, the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' association, National Credit Men's association, National Wholesale Saddle association, Wholesale Hatters' association, National Hay association, and many other national, state and local commercial organizations has been secured, with that of a large number of firms. The proposition advanced is simple. Carefully compiled statistics show that the average movement of forty shipments of freight from Richmond to various points in the south was slightly over sixty miles a day, or less than three miles an hour. It is pointed out that canal packets make five miles per hour and stage coaches six. As the running time of freight trains is from 15 to 25 miles per hour, it is calculated that the delay is unwarranted. The argument advanced will doubtless appeal to all merchants. It is that

Happiness in a Tablet

Perfect Health for Every One Procured at Small Cost.

How many times have you sat down at your meals absolutely disgusted at the thought or sight of anything to eat?
How many times have you felt a gnawing, unsatisfied, still-hungry feeling in your stomach, even after you were through eating?
How many times have you felt that "lump of lead" on your stomach after eating, whether your meal was well cooked or not?
And how many times have you suffered a whole lot of other things from your stomach that you couldn't explain, but that made you groggy, miserable, out-of-sorts and generally sour on everybody and everything?

It is safe to say you couldn't tell you don't keep track of these things, of course, but you know you've suffered them! You probably have had them for so long that they've become a habit with you, and you have come to the conclusion that your fate is to suffer them indefinitely and perhaps forever.

And so men, much like horses, standing unhitched at the hitching post, think they're tied, and so their habit makes them prisoners. But no one need have dyspepsia, nor indigestion, nor loss of appetite, brash, irritation, burning sensations, heart-burn, nausea, eructations, bad memory, loss of vim and vigor and the happiness that comes from a healthy stomach and a good appetite if he will only leave this old hitching post and hold himself to a new one, one that holds him to health, joy, ambition and a clear mind and memory, and the sunshine that goes with them.

That indeed is Heaven! And you can get it in a little tablet already prepared for the purpose, in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, those little cherubs of health and delight found in thousands of homes today. Listen—one ingredient of one of these precious little tablets will digest for you 3,000 grains of food.

This relieves your stomach of the work of digesting until your stomach can get strong and healthy again. Your stomach has been overworked and abused. It's tagged out. It needs a rest.

Let Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work of your stomach. You will be surprised how fine you'll feel after eating and how deliciously good everything will taste to you. That because the Tablets are so thoroughly digesting the food which your stomach couldn't digest before.

while their shipments are delayed their money is tied up unnecessarily. Every day's delay on a consignment means that the shipper is losing interest on the value of the goods, or is paying interest on that amount at the bank. It is estimated the total volume of freight is twenty billion dollars annually, and that there is an average delay of seven days which could be avoided. Seven days' interest on the value of the freight thus delayed amounts to $23,244,000, which sum, it is claimed, the merchants lose because of the delay. While these figures are doubtless made liberal to attract attention there is no doubt that the delays in the shipment of freight, which might be avoided, are costing the public many millions of dollars a year. Every day a case of one carload of goods is on the track the consignor is losing money and when that delay is unnecessarily prolonged the loss soon begins to approximate a small margin of profit. It is purposed that "wholesale" merchants should ask their customers and customers their jobbers, to note the exact time of the shipment and arrival of consignments, and see how long it takes to move their goods. They can then estimate what the delay costs them and how their shipping territory is restricted by the inability or the unwillingness of the railroads to make reasonable time with ordinary freight.

The busiest short session for many years will next December, is the prediction of the authorities here. Two or three of the important laws enacted at the last session will need some improvements, such as the pure food and railway rate acts, have been in each having already been discovered. It is thought the Illinois law will also be strengthened in some important particulars, and made more effective. The Cuban situation will be one of the questions of greatest importance. The tide has turned strongly against annexation, and the little flurry with Japan has added to the opposition to annexation, but how far this country can or ought to intervene in Cuban affairs is a question of great gravity, at this time, and whether any intervention should be taken on the motion of the President. It is to this country a new and startling departure from old traditions to use the army and naval forces of the government to preserve order in, or to govern a foreign country, and it is a precedent that may cause trouble in the future, especially as several European powers are already discussing the question as to whether or not the Monroe doctrine is still a vital force.

The trouble with Japan over the San Francisco school matter will call the attention of congress to the condition of our coast defenses, and to the real weakness of our navy, and this will form one of the burdens of the session. The currency question will also attract attention, but the probabilities are it will pass over to the new congress, as will the revision of the tariff. The bill to revive our merchant marine will occupy a good part of the attention of the house, as will the anti-injunction measure favoring organized labor. These are only a few of the important questions that will be before congress, and as the session will last only to the 2d of March, the hands of our national lawmakers will be well occupied.

LIGHT REPRIMAND FOR PAT FANNING

Police Commission Remembered That Gagen Was Man Who Went to Prison for Biting Him.

Late yesterday afternoon the five and police commission, composed of George McKee, John F. Sweeney and Dr. W. H. Judd, concluded its investigation of an alleged unwarranted assault on Martin Gagen by Officer Patrick Fanning, approved of his suspension by City Marshal Appleby on October 25, and decided that the period during which he should be off duty without pay should be ten days from the above-mentioned date. Various mitigating circumstances were brought to light in the evidence offered by Officers Morrissey, Brown and Bear. Gagen was shown to be a hard character to deal with, but he served a term in prison for biting one of Officer Fanning's fingers. The general opinion seemed to be that the troubling Gagen got might have had ample justification if it had occurred outside of the walls of the city hall.

CIGARMAKERS SEEK INCREASE IN WAGES

Washington Union Passes in Favor of Higher Schedule and Wants Per-mission to Demand.

Washington, D. C.,—At a meeting of the Cigarmakers' Union of Washington last Saturday night it was decided to advance the price of making cigars from $7 to $7.50 on each thousand. It was also decided to ask permission from the international organization to sanction the increased wage. There are thirty-five cigar-making establishments in Washington, all but four of which are unionized. There are 105 union men employed in the trade and about ten non-unionists.

Last year a similar proposition was submitted to the local unions for ratification, but was rejected, and the opinion seems general that the local labor unions may again disapprove the proposition for an increase in wages. A prominent cigar dealer, the only one here who would be affected if the proposed increase becomes effective, stated that he would be compelled to remove his factory to another section where labor is cheaper.

The scale of wages for cigarmakers vary in different districts. Cigarmakers here receive from ninety cents to $1.50 per hundred for cigars made, while the workmen in Pittsburg get only $2 a thousand for the same grade. Tobacco has been higher this year than at any other time within the last thirty years, it is claimed, which has caused many small cigarmakers who rolled their own goods and sold them, to forsake this and go to work in Washington factories, where their earnings would amount to more than they could make if they were acting independently. The Central Labor union has not acted on the proposed increase.

"EARL AND THE GIRL" AT MYERS THEATRE

Serious Accident Married First Part of Performance—Eddie Foy Talks About His Plans.

The enjoyment of last evening's performance of "The Earl and the Girl" before the largest audience that has assembled at the Myers theatre, this season was marred by one of those untoward occurrences which lead color from time to time to the stage carpenter's superstitions and fatalistic belief that untoward things will and do happen in defiance of all physical law. As Miss Edie Moore, the charming little singer from Australia, mounted the stairway in her duet with Harry Lester during the first act the structure suddenly collapsed, precipitating her to the floor eight feet below. Her means brought prompt assistance from stage hands and actors and almost in an instant they had raised the heavy timbers under which she was pinned, lifted her to her feet, and though limping and suffering intense pain she had resolutely refused her part in the song, quickly. Fortunately this could be ended quickly and immediately thereafter she was removed to the Hotel Myers and placed in the care of Dr. E. F. Woods. He found upon examination that no bones were fractured and was able to say this morning that no internal injuries had been sustained, though there were some ugly bruises from which the actress will not recover for several days. She did not leave with the company this forenoon, but expected to be able to join them before evening. The stage stairway had been carefully tested before the curtain rose and indeed nearly a dozen members of the chorus had passed over it thereafter. Every precaution had been taken, no one was to blame, a bolt had been jarred loose somewhere late in the night, the stage carpenter had stepped over the accident and refused to be consoled.

In an emergency, the serious character of which none save those behind the curtains could fully understand, another brave and admirable thing was done. Miss Dale Wilson, the regular understudy, had previously received her two weeks' notice from the management and refused to take Miss Moore's role. There was fair prospect that the production might be ruined when Little Miss Clara Inge, who had been dancing with the chorus without even the distinction of having her name on the program, sprang into the breach and volunteered to carry the part without rehearsal. The spectators, knowing nothing of the circumstances, were delighted with the work of this little seventeen-year-old Miss Inge and applauded even the few trifling errors she made with great enthusiasm.

"The Earl and the Girl" is a play abounding in the customary comic and absurdities of line and situation, reinforced by plenty of catchy music, costume drills, and attractive dancing. It is presented by capable principals and a strong chorus. Eddie Foy is the central character and he is ably supported by Zelma Rawlston, faithful companion in the Cheese dog show enterprise and a character comedienne and singer of ability; W. H. Armstrong, the "umbrella handle" lawyer and vocalist of ability; Edmund Ford, whose pleasing personality and delightful tenor please in the song "When the Right Little Girl Comes Along"; Harry Lester, the youthful lover whom all the world is expected to love; Florence Shott, who dances her way into the good graces of the onlookers; Frank Lavinie, the dreadful uncle; Jessie Leseur, the strong woman; and the other minor characters.

Mr. Foy had lost none of his hold on Janesville audiences. Every tip and nod of approval and all of his beautiful musical lights made immediate connections; the applause for the song about "You Don't Know Nellie Like I Do," amounting to an ovation. Tonight he is to sing for the first time a new vocal selection by Miss

Not a Theory but the Real Thing.

There is no heating stove of any kind as economical, as cleanly, or that will produce as even a temperature and is as satisfactory in every way as a good hard coal base burner. We have about every style of heating stove manufactured, and we can conscientiously state that there are just two kinds of heating stoves—FAVORITE BASE BURNERS and others.

A FAVORITE Base Burner is so superior to every other kind of heating stove that they are not to be considered in the same class.

We don't think we know it all but we have sold them for the past thirty years and—well, just ask your neighbors what they think of the FAVORITE, or better still, call and see them for yourself.

Jane Langdon, one of the members of his company, entitled "A Thousand Years From Now." He volunteered this information to an interviewer after the conclusion of the performance. "The late Eugene Field," he said, "once wrote a severe roast on me ending it up with the statement that I was a tin-foli comedian and a wheezy charlatan. It's good reading. Some day I hope to play 'Touchstone' in 'As You Like It' and I also would like to try the role of 'Rip Van Winkle.' My immediate plans? 'Well, I'm going to appear in 'The Orchid,' a big musical play which has been successful in England and which the Shuberts are going to present at the Casino, New York, about the middle of January.' Of the stage Mr. Foy is one of the genial and companionable of men. He thinks the world has been good to him and bears it no grudge.

SERGEANT SMITH'S SEARCH.

Traveled All Over the World, But Not Successful Until He Reached Janesville.

Sergeant Smith, who is remembered here as having been one of the first to join the Rough Riders, was in town yesterday, visiting old friends for the first time in many years. He said that it was odd, but in all his travels he had never found a good cigar until he went into People's Drug Co.'s drug store yesterday, where he bought a "Wadsworth Bros." "Chico," Sergeant Smith has smoked Porto Rican cigars, Cuban perfectos, and Manila cheroots, but from now on, "Chico," as it is a good, clean cigar, with Long Havana filler, smoking with a firm ash and a regular 25c fragrance.

People's Drug Co. have just secured the local agency for the "Chicos," and want all the smokers of Janesville to try them and see if Sergeant Smith is not a good judge of a cigar.

"Wadsworth Bros." Chicos are also for sale at King's Pharmacy.

COMING THEATRICAL EVENTS

Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 3—Mabel Barrison and company in the musical play "The District Leader."

Those of the music-loving, whose taste has not been warped by the idiosyncrasy and vulgarity of the so-called musical, will welcome the appearance here of Mabel Barrison and company. The production of "The District Leader," a musical play with a reason, at the Myers Theatre, Saturday, Nov. 3, matinee and evening.

"The District Leader" not only answers all the requirements of legitimate comedy drama, coupled with tuneful, pleasing, fluent melodies, but it has set a pace in this direction that is at least a full season in advance of anything ever offered. It is built along lines heretofore unknown by musical comedy authors and for this reason has touched a spot that has been yearning for something out of the ordinary. Its story is different, its action is different and its comedy different from all others. There is a serious scene and then there is a legitimate laugh. Then there are more pathetic scenes and then more laughs.

The cast is from both an acting and singing standpoint, far superior in every respect to that of any musical attraction offered this season. The production, technically and electrically, is complete in every detail having been laid out with a lavish hand, while the costumes, in one grand array of gorgeousness, the chorus, numbering over forty, is from both a vocal and beauty standpoint the greatest ever seen with any attraction.

The next attraction at the Myers theatre on Monday, Nov. 5, will be the three-act comedy drama with music entitled "The Black Politician or The Mayor of Marco," by S. B. Cassin, and played by the Smart Set, the most stellar colored organization before the public today. This offering, while of the kind that is sure to incite good, wholesome laughter, is of the pretentious order and will undoubtedly enhance the reputation of this incomparable company. The "Smart Set" company this season is headed by S. H. Dudley, a comedian of ability and temperament, and an entire new cast including Hodges and Launchmore, Alberta Ormes, Jennie Hillman and others. The new comedy has an absorbing plot and the interest is not allowed to lag one whit. The first act displays the exterior of Hiram Grindle's home. Hiram is running against Reuben Boreland for the office of mayor of Marco. Grindle represents the liberal end of the government while Boreland is on the prohibition side. Grindle has engaged a well known politician from New York to run his campaign. The rival side hearing of this endeavor to forestall such a procedure if it possibly can. Walker, Ties manager of the Cleveland Burslers, a stranded showman, in company with Plossie Conn, a typical sourette, conclude to make capital out of the campaign while the iron is hot. They are financially embarrassed and hunger and starvation threaten them. It appears that Ties has suggested the idea of having Ward Heeler, a black politician from New York, help Grindle. Grindle agreed to pay $500 for the services of the black politician and had advanced Ties $200. Of course the latter has lost this sum with his show. Heeler tells to put in an appearance and Ties, taking a desperate chance, induces Hiram Grindle, an instant race horse man and tout, to step into the breach. Do not know how the thing about politics or politicians and how to be coached by Ties into assuming his new office.

THE GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.
President Moore and Mr. Loucks of the National Good Roads organization visited Fond du Lac a few days after organizing Rock County.

Someone in that city, who evidently thought that the gentlemen were making money out of the enterprise, wrote to L. W. Page, director of the office of good roads in the department of agriculture at Washington, asking whether Messrs. Moore and Loucks were working under government auspices.

Mr. Page's reply was sent to the Milwaukee Sentinel and published in that paper yesterday. It says in substance that the gentlemen do not represent the government, and volunteers the opinion that their mission is to get what money they can from the people. This is an injustice to the association and the men connected with it which should not go unchallenged.

The National Good Roads association with headquarters at St. Louis is a public-spirited and philanthropic organization largely supported by men of wealth who are attempting to educate the country in intelligent and permanent road-building.

Col. Moore is president of the association and Mr. Loucks the general organizer. Their plan of work is to enter a state and organize the counties for systematic work and to aid them in securing legislation that may be helpful.

They charge for their services $100 and this money was paid for Rock county by Janesville business men who felt at the time and who feel today that the money was well expended.

The information furnished and the knowledge gained on how to construct streets and roads is worth more to any city and county than the expense connected with it, if no permanent organization results.

Mr. Loucks spends a week in doing preliminary work, for which he receives no pay, and then returns and devotes the next week with Col. Moore in organization work.

They traveled some 50,000 miles last year at heavy expense, and it takes a good financier to show a balance sheet with any profit.

If the department at Washington is doing anything for good roads it is not visible on the surface and the director's opinion of the national movement is not worth considering.

The people of the state need enlightenment and education along the lines advanced by President Moore and Mr. Loucks. They are doing good work and should be encouraged.

It is only fair to these gentlemen to say that they stated when in Janesville that their association was in no way connected with the government. They did not attempt to sail under false colors, and the Gazette has confidence enough in them to believe that they are not doing so in other parts of the state.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF IT?
The Milwaukee Free Press, the mouthpiece of anything to beat republican nominees, announces in bold-face type:
"La Follette says defeat Z. P. Beach.

Urges election of democrat in Walworth.

"Lenroot speaks against Babcock. The La Follette speeches tonight. Senator La Follette will begin his speech tonight at the South Side Turn Hall in the interests of Francis E. McGovern."

That tells the story of the man who has been honored by the republican party and the methods he is now employing in his campaign against the party's candidates.

Mr. Beach of Whitewater is renominated by the voters of Walworth county to succeed himself in the state senate. His constituency is satisfied with his work and with the verdict "Well done," invites him to continue. But he was one of the senators whom an all-wise governor stamped with the mark of Cain, and that, of course, damns him for all time. The people of Walworth county, however, will look after Mr. Beach and the junior senator will find it uphill work to elect a democratic senator in this republican stronghold.

The question is being asked from Senator Spooner and all along the line, how can a man who claims to be a republican do this, in the face of the people's verdict as expressed by the primary law? "No one has as yet been found who is wise enough to answer."

It is a problem which only La Follette can explain, and his attempts along that line are far from satisfying. "How the mighty have fallen."

THE TEACHERS' CONVENTION

The teachers' convention, now in session in the city, is but one of many similar conventions held throughout the land. The object of these gatherings is to educate the educator, and when intelligently conducted they produce good results.

Next to the mother the teacher sustains the most sacred relation to child life, and in many homes the influence of the teacher is more potent than the influence of the home.

What the teacher needs is more than a certificate of ability to meet the mental requirements of an examining board. If her equipment is limited to the parchment she will never be more than a machine pedagogue, and there are too many of this class for the good of the schools.

There are some requirements necessary to successful teaching which are never reduced to writing, and which seldom annoy either applicant or board when a certificate is wanted.

They have to do with the heart, rather than the head, and are like the unwritten laws which hold society in place and cause the old world to run smoothly.

The real teacher is more than a product of the schools, however high the degree. She combines with courage, tact and common sense, with firmness, gentleness and patience, and possesses a heart full of love for her work and for the children entrusted to her care.

In this busy age of activity some-

Cream Baking Powder

Has a dietetic value greatly beyond the conception of any one who has not used it. It will make your food of a delicious taste, a moist and keeping quality and a digestibility not to be obtained from any other baking powder or leavening agent.

But more important than all else, Dr. Price's Baking Powder carries only healthful qualities to the food.

As every housekeeper can understand, burnt alum and sulphuric acid—the ingredients of all alum and aluminophosphate powders—must carry to the food acids injurious to health.

Avoid the alum powders—study the label

One has said that genius is a lost art and hard, persistent work wins success in every calling.

While there was never a time in history when labor was so abundant, rewarded as today, the fact remains that genius and adaptability are potent factors in the realm of success.

The teacher who measures up to the limit of possibilities is divinely endowed and hand equipped. The mind may be developed to the straining point where the brain is lost in a dizzy maze, but unless the heart is in the right place and pulses true for humanity the machine and not the teacher represents the finished product.

The discovery was made long ago that a majority of boys out of every 100 would fall at any particular calling to which they might all be assigned. Less than half the medical students who graduate from the medical schools ever enter the profession.

The girl who aspires to be a nurse enters the training school on three months' probation. She may possess intelligence and culture, but if found lacking in the finer sensibilities known as graces of the heart she is informed that some other calling is advisable.

The normal schools and higher institutions of learning are less critical. Every girl admitted is a teacher in embryo and the finished product does not always pass the embryo stage.

There are teachers in Janesville, as well as in every community who are a handicap to child life. Many boys have graduated from the grades who would have gone on through the high school with proper treatment and encouragement.

This is an injustice to the child from which he never recovers. It deprives him of the foundation which only the formative years can furnish. The convention will do well, if it emphasizes the fact that adaptability and heart are necessary to successful teaching.

Secretary Root has placed Hearst where he belongs, as the man who instigated the assassination of President McKinley. The press of the country has taken up the accusation and the memory of the martyred president is creating a wave of indignation which will engulf Mr. Hearst next Tuesday.

The hospital fund needs the assistance of every man and woman in the city who believes that the enterprise is worthy. Hunt up the committee if they fail to call on you.

It cost the government $400,000 to print the postage stamps for the fiscal year ending June 30 and $1,000,000 for stamped and addressed envelopes during the same period.

There is more pedagogic wisdom in the city just now than at any time in the history of the town. The teachers are welcome and are entitled to a "God bless you" and the best of wishes.

Collier's is authority for the Hearst newspapers are collection proof, and yet Hearst appears to have a barrel of money.

Don't forget that next Tuesday is election day.

"Not $10--Just $5 a Tooth"

You paid $10 each for your gold crowns. Didn't you? Well, you need not do it in the future. If you will choose, Dr. Richards for your dentist. He is placing hundreds of the finest gold crowns possible to be made for just $5 each. You ask: "How can he do it?" Because he is satisfied with a smaller margin of profit. He guarantees these crowns to be the equal of any in quality of gold, in beauty of design, in fit and general usefulness. Now, who would be so foolish as to part with a tooth when for $5.00 it can be saved for possibly 25 years of good hard service? Dr. Richards can show you crowns set by him 15 years ago which are as good as ever today. Can you ask more than that? And his price isn't $10. It's just $5 each. THOUSAND HERE FOR CONVENTION

HUNDREDS OF TEACHERS ARRIVED ON TRAINS THIS MORNING.

PERSONALITY NOT EDUCATION

Is Most Important Requisite of Good Teacher Said President Hughes of Ripon College.

Hundreds of teachers of high schools, graded schools, rural schools and kindergarten, having arrived in the city last evening, and this morning on the opening session of the annual convention of the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' Association here this morning. The meeting was held in the Congregational church at ten-thirty o'clock and the audience completely filled the pews in the auditorium and gallery and many were compelled to stand up. The Janesville high school orchestra opened the convention with a very pleasing selection and this was roundly applauded. Dr. S. B. Buckmaster, president of the local board of education, delivered the address of welcome, extending a hearty greeting to the visiting teachers. The response was given by President Albert Salisbury of Whitewater Normal.

Committees Appointed
O. W. Gehrand of Baraboo, president of the association, presided at the meeting and announced the appointment of committees as follows:
Nominating—Supt. John Hageman of Fort Atkinson, Prin. F. E. Gray of Platteville, Prof. D. O. Kinsman of Whitewater Normal, Miss Martha Dooley of Richland Center, John Stark.

Resolutions—Prof. W. H. Cheever of Milwaukee Normal, Supt. John Hageman of Whitewater Normal, Supt. F. E. Converse of Beloit.

Auditing—Supt. Charles Hemingway of Rock county, Supt. Schwartz of Monroe, Prof. Upham of Whitewater Normal.

Books Must Be Straight
Never before has the association had an auditing committee and when asked regarding its work and purpose Pres. Gehrand said: "The committee is to audit the treasurer's books of last year and see that they are correct in every particular. Of course no one believes that they are wrong and it would be a great surprise if an error were found, but this is a business method that I deem altogether proper in this day of graft and crookedness."

Ripon's President Speaks
The principal address of the morning was delivered by Richard C. Hughes, president of Ripon college. He commenced talking at quarter-past eleven and held his audience till fifteen minutes after the noon hour. In part he said: "That teaching is a profession is demonstrated by your presence here—that you take the time and money to assemble each year for the purpose of conferences is to help honor and build up the profession represented. The profession has already been greatly improved. Two score years ago the schoolmaster was in a class midway between the servants and the upper strata. This condition is a relic of barbarism; the time when the teacher was a slave. In reaction the title 'professor' has become a very much overworked term for the barber and the man who makes a balloon ascension are professors. Henry Ward Beecher took pride in refusing all titles and degrees and died as Beecher, for it was a greater honor to him than to be Dr. Beecher. So the teaching profession will be raised in dignity, not by titles or positions, but by the people in it. Mary Anderson and Joe Jefferson lifted the acting profession out of degradation by their personalities and to a teacher a beautiful personality is more important than a perfected education."

Profession for Life.
The day of coercion is past. The pupil is no longer considered an empty cistern into which facts must be poured—facts that will become stagnant by disuse. The old schools where the rod ruled kept the profession in the justly despised condition. Teaching must be entered as a lifetime profession. I do not mean to say that it is a bar to marriage, but the instructor must work with her whole soul and not with the idea of earning enough money to get some clothes for an interesting event that is to occur within a few years. Teaching to be a profession must be made an effort work a lifetime. Work for the sake of the fee and you are a child of fees, but work for the sake of the work and you are a child of the work. Judas did not mean to be a traitor, but he was a greater lover of money than of discipleship.

Teachers' Mod Disapproval
Warning them that he was about to utter something that a few years ago would have been considered heresy, Mr. Hughes continued: "Strict order, the discouragement of laughter, harmless curiosity and conversation should not be absolutely maintained. I saw a recitation where the teachers and pupils laughed heartily at an error, where the children passed to and from the class in disorder and where they whispered when they felt so disposed—and was assured by the superintendent that more results came from this grade than any other in the city. Self-formal methods were failing in others and here the conditions that are natural to childhood were accomplishing the purpose of the school. To this statement of the speaker many in the convention nodded disapproval."

Every Boy a Savage
President Hughes further said: At the La Crosse convention I made a statement that was taken up by the press of the state and in some instances ridiculed. I said that every boy and possibly every girl was at some time a little savage, a delightful and lovable savage, who has the right to be a savage at the savage age. The real master is the one who does not kill this spirit in the child, but getting in sympathy with him leads him out. To so teach no new program, no changed curriculum is needed. All that is necessary is to love the savage, for all ages must be developed in order that the con-

Take Out Your License.—Any person who may entertain the idea of engaging in the business of peddling should be careful to take out a government license before entering upon their labors, as they are liable to have their goods confiscated unless they do. Mr. Smith, the assessor, informed yesterday of a case where a poor man residing a few miles from the city had his horse and wagon—a borrowed wagon at that—and all his traps taken from him by the officers for peddling without a license. The officers have no option but to do their duty as the law specifies. In consideration of the fact that the man was a soldier and evidently violated the law through ignorance of it, Mr. Smith has written to the assessor to obtain if possible a mitigation of the penalty. But it is by no means certain that it will be granted. The only safe way is to take out the regular papers.

S.S.S. EXPELS BLOOD HUMORS

Itching, disfiguring eruptions, rashes, boils, etc., as well as pimples, black-heads and rough, scaly skins, show the presence of some irritating humor in the blood. These acids and humors with which the blood is filled are being constantly thrown off through the pores and glands, and the skin is kept in a feverish, diseased and unsightly condition. Nothing applied externally can change the condition of the blood or prevent the outflow of poisons and acids; only constitutional treatment can do this. The countless washes, salves, lotions, etc., that are used cannot reach the humor-laden blood and are, therefore, useless, except for the temporary comfort and cleanliness they afford. The acid poison in the blood, which is the cause of the trouble, must be removed before a cure can be effected. S. S. S. is a real blood purifier, possessing all the requirements to neutralize and remove the humor from the circulation. It completely eradicates every trace of the poison and restores this vital fluid to its natural state of purity. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated blood so that instead of pouring out acid matter on the skin it feeds and nourishes it with health-sustaining properties, and the eruptions and diseases of the skin pass away. Book on Skin Diseases, and medical advice free.

AFTON.

Afton, Nov. 1.—For some unaccountable reason there was not a large attendance at the initial meeting of the Moonlight club held at Bringham's hall here last Tuesday evening, only four being present from La Prairie, one from Turtle, none at all from Shoreline village and the town of Rock were well represented, the night being an ideal one for such a gathering.

Humphrey acted as leader and under his direction the following program was given: Song—"Starlight," R. K. Overton, La Prairie; "What Elements Go to Make a Prosperous City," U. G. Waite, Alton; "What a Prosperous City Means to the Surrounding Country," J. T. Humphrey, chairman; David Throner, Beloit; C. R. Van Gilder, La Prairie; Dr. J. B. Manier, Turtle; L. G. White, Rock. Letter to Mr. John Jensen, Janesville, Wis.

Dear Sir: In-Champaign, Ill., the drug firm of H. Swannell & Son, first class concern, patented some new shelving with two coats of Devco lead and zinc inside Gloss White.

A painter coming into the store noticed it and remarked, "putting enamel paint on their shelves."

When they told him it was simply two coats of Devco lead and zinc on wood he could hardly believe it.

Result: That painter uses a lot of Devco paint now and gets satisfactory results with it.

Any paint that's better than you expect is a good paint to use.

Yours truly,

New York and Chicago.

A Mistaken Idea About ELECTRIC LIGHT

Strangely enough there are people who feel that electric light is expensive. They seem to argue that because it is so much superior to any other alluminant, therefore it must be more costly to use. It is not!

The Cost is Lower than for any other form of lighting when you consider the efficiency of electric light—the actual candle power available for use—and the saving to decorations in a house in freedom from soot or smudge. It may pay you to investigate—to compare the cost of less desirable forms of allumination. A solicitor will call if you desire
